

Guidelines for students participating in classes conducted in direct contact at the Faculty of Chemical Technology and Engineering ZUT in the winter semester of the academic year 2021/2022

1. To come to classes are allowed only students without disease symptoms indicating SARS-CoV-2 infection (cold, cough, temperature, muscle pains, chills, losing of the smell and taste senses) who had no contact with patients diagnosed with COVID-19 or those ordered quarantine or isolation.
2. Wearing face masks covering the mouth and nose is obligatory in all ZUT facilities.
3. Students should avoid forming groups before, during and after classes. Space of 1,5 m should be kept between students waiting for the classes and students should wear face masks covering their mouths and noses.
4. Before entering didactic rooms participants should clean their hands carefully with soap and water and disinfect them or put gloves on.
5. To laboratory classes requiring to use of laboratory equipment and chemical reagents, each student is obliged to come equipped with personal protection aids: disposable gloves, a face mask, protective gloves and a cotton laboratory uniform.
6. In IT rooms students are obliged to work in disposable gloves.
7. Items that are not relevant for the classes should not be brought to the rooms.
8. If possible, each student should use their own stationery materials/items necessary to undergo the classes. No items should be borrowed from other participants.
9. During the break, students are allowed to leave or stay inside the building where the classes are conducted on the condition that the social distance - the space of 1,5 m between other people is kept.
10. During classes, it is recommended to keep the distance of minimum 1,5 m in all directions between particular participants / didactic stations. If it is not possible to ensure sufficient distance between students, students should wear face masks.
11. Students before entering the classes may leave any personal belonging in the cloakroom, however, the University takes no responsibility for any items that are left there.
12. If a person observes any worrying disease symptoms (cough, temperature, muscle pains, chills, losing of the smell and taste senses) he/she should not come to classes. It is recommended to contact a doctor by phone to get medical advice – twenty-four-hour helpline regarding quarantine and health - phone 222 500 115, optionally to contact a district sanitary and epidemiological station in Szczecin (phone: 91 487 0313, 693 454 556, 661 038 020 – hours 7³⁰-20⁰⁰; or 668 332 486, 694 493 767 – beyond the working hours), or a hospital infectious ward, or, in case of deteriorating health condition, call 999 or 112 and inform on the possibility of coronavirus infection.
13. In case of imposed quarantine order or hospitalization connected with COVID-19 pandemic, the student is obliged to inform immediately about it, via electronic mail or by phone, WTiICh Dean's Office (wtiich@zut.edu.pl, phone 91 449 49 64 or phone 91 449 41 05) as well as teachers conducting classes to excuse his/her absences.

Dean
Faculty of Chemical Technology and Engineering

professor Rafał Rakoczy